

Our Logo Printing page explains the method we use to print logos on tablecloths, including the fact that there is always a background to your logo, whether white or other colour that you have included in your JPEG file.

If you have chosen to make your JPEG file with a background colour that tries to match the colour of the tablecloth you are purchasing, please note that this may not be possible, as fabric hues are different than the hues produced by our printers. In most cases, your logo background will be visible even if it matches as close as possible the colour of the fabric.