

How do you finish a customised Table Guardian?

The Table Guardian does not require any type of finish on the edges. It is cut to size and can go straight away on the table. It is meant to be placed underneath a tablecloth, to provide protection to the table and friction so that the tablecloth will not slip or move around on the table top.